F.D.R. Receives Decision in Nazi Spy Trial

—Washington

Washington, Aug. 3.—(P)—The military commission which tried eight alleged Nazi saboteurs reached a decision today on the guilt or innocence of the men and Major General Frank R. McCoy took the findings to the White House for President Roosevelt.

The chief executive must review the findings, and he is expected to take his time and go into the case thoroughly.

The commission's recommendations probably will not be made public until Mr. Roosevelt has completed his review.

Earlier presidential secretary Stephen Early had said the findings would be placed before the president "as soon as possible."

Washington, Aug. 3.—(P)—The White House said today that it expected the findings of the military commission which tried eight alleged German saboteurs to be delivered to the president during the day.

Presumably the military tribunal's recommendations will not be made public until they have been reviewed by the chief executive.

Mr. Roosevelt is expected to withhold his approval until he has had time to look thoroughly into the records of the trial.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said he believed the military commission's findings would be delivered to the White House today and he declared they would be placed before the president "as soon as possible."

The defendants and government defense counsel were summoned before the commission again as it met in the justice building today after private sessions Saturday afternoon and yesterday.

After a brief meeting, the commission issued this statement that indicated it had reached a judgment:

"The commissioned reconvened at 11:05 a. m. The commission announced that the findings and sentence will not be announced by it. The commission adjourned at 11:07 to meet at the call of the president."

The president alone has power to alter the commission's decision, which could carry a death penalty for all or part of the defendants.

The secrecy which has surrounded the case since the start remained unbreached.

Brig. Gen. Albert L. Cox, provost marshal of the District of Columbia and custodian of the accused, explained that the announcement

Adkins Can Appoint El Dorado Judge

Little Rock, Aug. 3.—(P)—The attorney general's office advised Governor Adkins today he could make an interim appointment to fill the vacancy created by death of Circuit Judge L. S. Britt of El Dorado and that a Democratic nominee for the four-year regular term beginning January 1 could be selected by one of three methods.

Adkins said he would confer with party leaders from the 13th judicial district this afternoon before announcing what method would be adopted.

The methods are (1) Nomination by the state democratic convention meeting in September; (2) nomination by delegates from the 13th district; (3) nomination at a special primary to be called before the November general election.

Britt died last Wednesday, about two weeks before the August 11 regular primary at which he would have been renominated without opposition. His present term expires January 1.

The attorney general's office added that the vacancy could be filled at a special general election with candidates running as independents nominated by petition of at least 50 qualified voters.

Sunday Hottest Day of Year, 102 Degrees

Sunday proved to be the hottest day of the year with a high of 102 degrees and a low of 76, the University of Arkansas Experiment Station's weather department announced today.

July 31, the temperature hit 98 degrees while Saturday, August 1, the mercury climbed to 100 degrees.

To Investigate Frank Episode

Buenos Aires, Aug. 3.—(P)—Through a hat left in the apartment where Waldo Frank, the American writer, was beaten up yesterday, Argentine police have identified one of his six assailants. It was reliably learned today.

Inquiries at the home of the owner of the hat, a student, elicited the information that the youth was "out of town."

Buenos Aires, Aug. 3.—(P)—The painful beating which six assailants dealt to Waldo Frank within 24 hours after the Argentine government had pronounced the United States writer and lecturer unwelcome in this country threatened today to provoke a political aftermath.

Deputy Eduardo Araujo said he would offer a motion in the lower house demanding that the government explain what means it took to protect the 53-year-old publicist after his declaration Saturday that he had become persona non grata.

Frank was attacked yesterday in the apartment where he had lived since he came to Argentina 11 weeks ago at the invitation of various universities and cultural societies.

According to Jose Stanek, porter in the house, the unidentified men were armed and gained entry to Frank's apartment by posing as agents sent to examine his papers. When Frank turned to a desk drawer, presumably to get the papers, one of the men struck him with a revolver butt, Stanek related.

Dr. William B. Giles, Frank's physician, said he suffered a brain concussion of deep severity.

He was said to be resting easily, however, and it was expected that he could leave the hospital within a week.

Police investigators who worked throughout the night running down clues to the identity of Frank's assailants, said they had found several fingerprints on objects in the American's rooms. All inhabitants of the republic must be fingerprinted to get identity cards, and confidence was expressed that the prints in Frank's apartment would be identified in the police files.

Chandler Is Easy Winner in Kentucky

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 3.—(P)—Unofficial returns from more than three-fourths of Kentucky's 4,375 precincts today gave Senator A. B. "Happy" Chandler a lead of 69,290 votes for the Democratic senatorial nomination over John Young Brown, Lexington attorney.

Senator Chandler left last night en route to Alaska. At Spokane, Wash., he will be joined by other members of a Senate subcommittee he heads on an inspection of Alaskan defenses.

Reports from 3,709 precincts show that at Saturday's primary the junior senator received 116,251 votes to 49,961 for Brown. The count, stopped at midnight Saturday, was resumed today.

Ellis Throws His Support to McClellan for Senator

Congressman Clyde T. Ellis of Bentonville, who finished third in Tuesday's preferential primary for United States senator, announced over the week-end that he will support ex-Congressman John L. McClellan of Camden against Attorney General Jack Holt of Harrison in the runoff primary August 11.

Congressman David D. Terry announced earlier that he, too, would support McClellan.

Mr. Ellis' statement:

"It had been my hope that I might cast my ballot for a Senate nominee in the privacy of the election booth. However, both candidates have asked me for my support and my friends all over the state are urging that I make my attitude public. Rumors have been set afloat that I am privately asking my friends to support Mr. Holt. I accede therefore to the propriety of clarifying my position."

"Mr. Holt comes from my section of the state. We have enjoyed a cordial relationship for many years. I naturally would prefer to find no compelling reason for not supporting him. It is quite obvious, however, that Mr. Holt's candidacy is sponsored by a coalition of Hot Springs gamblers, a small ruthless band of machine politicians and certain monopolistic interests. He is wholly inexperienced in legislative procedure."

"Mr. McClellan is appealing to the unorganized masses of the people. As congressman he supported the enactment of legislation which authorized the construction of dams on our rivers. He helped pass the law which created the Rural Electrification Administration. He is experienced in Washington legislative procedure."

"I believe the ideas and the program for which I am fighting would be best served if Mr. McClellan is elected."

"In good conscience and in respect to the people who have accorded me political distinction I cannot, regardless of personal inclinations, do otherwise than support John McClellan."

Japanese Routed From Outposts on New Guinea

—War in Pacific

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Aug. 3.—(P)—The possibility that the Japanese have reinforced their garrison at Buna was acknowledged by an Allied spokesman today as General MacArthur's headquarters reported a renewal of savage fighting in the New Guinea jungles midway between that enemy base and Port Moresby.

The communique announcing the jungle fighting declared Allied troops had routed Japanese outposts near Kokoda, 60 miles east of Port Moresby, and said Allied bombers had set fire to enemy supply dumps in that area.

It was the first reference to the existence of such supply dumps, and an Allied spokesman said it was not impossible the Japanese had been moving men and equipment in from Lae—some 165 miles north of Buna.

In addition to attacking the supply dumps at Kokoda, Allied heavy and medium bombers pounded enemy positions near Buna. Japanese fighters rose to intercept the Allied planes and a hot fight ensued in which five of the enemy planes were shot down, General MacArthur's headquarters said.

A twin-engined Japanese bomber which became involved in the melee also was reported destroyed. Allied losses were given as two fighters and one bomber.

After Allied planes, ranging over the Banda sea west of New Guinea yesterday, were reported to have bombed a Japanese cruiser for the third time in as many days. The results of the attack, pressed home without loss in the face of enemy fighter opposition, were unknown.

Says Shipyards to Make Planes

Washington, Aug. 3.—(P)—Col. Hugh J. Kneer, retired, told a Senate Military Subcommittee today that shipyards would be able to build cargo planes "for the next war," but he thought it would take too long for them to produce aircraft for this one.

Kneer said he had investigated the possible conversion of shipyards into cargo plane factories in 1939 for a Newport news builder, and reported that he found "shipyard methods could not be used without re-education of the drafting room personnel and yard management."

Experience, he said, showed that it took "three years from the time the designers put pencil to paper until the planes fly." Consequently he added, conversion of the shipyards was "not practical for this war, but would be for the next war."

"You don't favor the Kaiser proposal, then?" asked Chairman Lee (D-Okla.) referring to the plan of Henry J. Kaiser, west coast shipbuilder, to construct giant cargo planes in the shipyards.

"Yes," Kneer replied, "for the next war."

Kneer, who was chief of Army Air Corps headquarters from 1935 to 1938, recommended expansion of the present cargo plane output and the adoption of a "certain percentage" of the present bomber production.

Ellis Supports John McClellan

Little Rock, Aug. 3.—(P)—The Republican state committee refused today to endorse either of the two surviving candidates for the Democratic senatorial nomination on grounds that they had not taken a definite stand on strikes.

Meeting behind closed doors to take their first official interest in a democratic primary, the Republicans continued debate on endorsing candidates for other state and district offices.

Chairman Osro Cobb said the Republicans might later endorse one of the senatorial candidates if he came with a definite anti-strike policy before the Aug. 11 general primary.

The Republicans held out a threat to nominate for the Senate themselves, as they have usually done, if neither Democratic candidate expressed himself on strikes.

Democratic senatorial candidates who survived the July 28 preferential are Attorney General Jack Holt and former Congressman John L. McClellan. They are campaigning for the sea held by Lloyd Spencer, an interim appointee ineligible to succeed himself.

Exiled Norwegians in Tribute to King

London, Aug. 3.—(P)—Norwegians in exile marched in a mile-long procession past a reviewing stand in Hyde Park in tribute to their king, Haakon VII, who observed his 70th birthday today.

Flaxen-haired women and girls in embroidered national dress, some of whom came to Britain with Commandos which had raided the Norwegian coast, marched with uniformed men.

The king, forced to flee from his Nazi-ruled realm, is a hale and active leader of Norway's fight against the Nazis.

Nazis Practice Repulsing Allies in Norway Area

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS
Bern, Switzerland, Aug. 3.—(P)—Extensive maneuvers by German troops and defense forces designed to protect Norway from an Allied invasion were reported today as signs multiplied that Germany is becoming increasingly "second front conscious."

A Stockholm dispatch to the Neue Zürcher Zeitung said that the maneuvers in recent weeks had extended from Kristiansund on the west coast to Trondheim, and that ship traffic and fishing had been suspended in some of the fjords during the exercises.

New minefields have been laid near Otterø north of Ålesund, the report added, while numerous naval bases equipped with long-range guns have been erected along the Norwegian coast in the past year.

The same paper's correspondent at Vichy said the order of Pierre Laval banning demonstrations endangering "public order" and fixing the death penalty for unauthorized possession of firearms and explosives was probably inspired by discussions of a second front rather than recent outbreaks in the unoccupied area.

The reporter noted that demonstrations already had been forbidden, and that the order now only recomputed it at a time when second front discussion, from the German viewpoint, fills many columns of the French press in Paris.

One can read into the ban, he said, "a warning to the people in the possible area of operations."

Japs Troubled by U. S. Planes

Chungking, Aug. 3.—(P)—A second big air battle for control of the skies over China was reported fought today over Hengyang air base between United States planes and new Japanese fighters apparently massed for an attempt to wipe out the Americans' outpost in Hunan province.

Although no details of the fight were available immediately, word reached here that the outcome had been favorable to the Americans.

A spokesman at Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters said no information would be given out until the communique tomorrow.

Chungking, Aug. 3.—(P)—The scale of recent Japanese attacks on the United States Army airbase at Hengyang indicates that the enemy assembled a special force of improved fighter planes and highly trained pilots for the express purpose of trying to wipe out this American outpost in Hunan province, Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters said today.

A total of 119 Japanese planes participated in a 36-hour attack on the airfield which began before daylight last Thursday, a communique said.

The bulletin confirmed previous official reports that 17 of the attacking planes had been shot down and that at least four more probably were destroyed.

A number of American pilots distinguished themselves in the action, General Stilwell's headquarters said.

Special mention was given Lieut. John Lombard of Iowa, Mich., and Lieut. D. A. Clinger of Etna, Wyo., who found themselves at one time engaged by 23 enemy fighter planes. Before extricating themselves from these impossible odds, the Americans each shot down one.

Lone German Plane Raids Iceland Base

Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 3.—(P)—A German plane bombed and machine-gunned a remote military installation of southeastern Iceland yesterday, United States military authorities announced today, saying there were no casualties and only negligible damage.

This was the fifth instance of German air activity over Iceland, garrisoned by U. S. troops, within two weeks. The attack apparently was minor, but the army declined further details.

The bleak island northwest of England lies about 600 miles from the nearest German-held territory in Norway.

The attacking plane was a Focke-Wulf.

During the last two weeks Nazi long-range bombers have attacked one Icelandic and one British trawler, bombing and machine-gunning both. The ships, however, did not sink and the army said there were no casualties.

Norwegian naval fliers patrolling the water around the island engaged in two dogfights with the Focke-Wulfs off the northern coast. One fight lasted 12 minutes. After one engagement, a German plane disappeared into the clouds with flames spurting from its engines.

McClellan, Holt to Speak Here

Jack Holt and John L. McClellan, candidates for the United States senate in the runoff primary election August 11, who spoke here during the preferential campaign, will return to Hope for campaign addresses this week.

Holt will speak at the city hall at 8 o'clock Thursday night, August 6.

McClellan will speak at the city hall at 8 o'clock Friday night, August 7.

Germans Halted on All Other Fronts by Reds

—Europe

By EDDY GILMORE
Moscow, Aug. 3.—(P)—Aided by dive bombers which hammered crawling columns of fresh thousands of German men and vehicles, the Red Army declared today that it had repulsed the Germans in all the vital sectors except south of Rostov where "severe defensive" battles were being waged.

Even there, said the Soviet Information Bureau, Don and Kuban Cossacks from the Red Army of Caucasus were savagely counter-attacking to stem the German advance.

More than 6,000 Germans were killed and at least 25 tanks destroyed in a single day along the curving 300-mile Don front, the Russians declared.

Gambling high for Caucasian oil, the Germans threw reserves by the thousands across their Rostov bridgeheads. They were employing every kind of motorized conveyance — fast motorcycles, speed troop-carrying trucks, tanks bearing automatic riflemen, and small tanks which rushed the Russians from the flanks.

But the reinforced Russian air force strafed and bombed these columns continuously as they coiled southward.

About 2,000 Germans were left dead on the field in a fierce struggle near Klekskaya, northwest of Stalingrad in the Don bend, where the invaders were repulsed, the communique said.

Units of Don and Kuban Cossacks charged fiercely into the slowly advancing Nazi forces in the Kuznetsov-Salsk region, north of the north Caucasus in what the communique described as a "successful counterattack" and killed 1,500 Germans, it was reported.

Soviet long-range bombers and dive-bombers assisted the hard fighting Cossacks by raining bombs on German tanks and motorized columns, the Russians said.

Moscow newspapers gave an increasing space to demands for a second front to ease the strain on the Red Army. The Communist party newspaper Pravda, declaring that "the danger in the south is more acute," said "the enemy is draining Germany and German-occupied countries to send all the reserves into the fight."

British military quarters said in London that sixteen Nazi divisions had been transferred from France and the low countries to the Russian front, but added that this did not necessarily indicate a weakening of Germany's defenses to the west since the transferred troops had been replaced by other units.

These sources estimated that the Germans now have about 28 divisions (260,000 to 3,900,000 men) in France, Belgium and the Netherlands, exclusive of the troops in Norway.

In the air war across the English channel, one northeastern English coast town was raided by daylight after German bombers had scattered overnight attacks on the industrial Midlands and East Anglia. London had a short night alarm but was not bombed, and damage altogether was described

U. S. Farm Goal to Be Reached

By FRANKLIN MULLIN
Chicago, Aug. 3.—(P)—The nation's first wartime agricultural production goal, calling for the greatest American farm output on record to meet United Nations food demands, is likely to be achieved, an analysis by livestock, produce and grain trade experts indicated today.

The 1942 output of some commodities may fall slightly below that sought under the program assigned farmers shortly after Pearl Harbor, while some goals are being exceeded.

At least the American agricultural production machine is over the hump in its effort this year. Farmers have been greatly aided by unusually favorable weather, except in a few sections, and crop damage has been at a minimum. Furthermore, fields and pastures throughout most of the nation now are in good condition.

The accompanying table shows actual agricultural achievement this year compared with the goals established early in the season. In the case of crops, acreages now standing for harvest are given and large extent will make up for sm in many instances last year or failure to reach acreage goals assigned.

In the case of milk and egg production as well as livestock slaughter, approximate achievement for the first six months is shown. By doubling these figures a rough estimate of output for the full year is available, although this does not hold true in some cases of seasonally smaller production the last half of the year.

Arkansas Unit Being Formed

Recruiting of 400 men from 10 to 45 will take place at Grim Hotel, Texarkana, this Monday and Tuesday, August 3, 4.

Major N. C. F. Nielsen, Officer of the Chief of Ordnance of Washington, D. C., will interview and accept applicants for enlistment in two Ordnance Maintenance Units at this time. Qualified men in the line of mechanics, electricians, machinists, carpenters, cooks, blacksmiths, welders, tool-makers, instrument repairmen are desired. Service with these organizations is unlimited.

They are being organized completely of Arkansas men and will be for maintenance of mechanized equipment in the field. Specialists ratings will be forthcoming to enlisted men who are capable and competent.

Major Nielsen states, "These men must be qualified in their respective occupations as it is necessary that they maintain all types of mechanical equipment and instruments in the field of operations." Men who want to serve their country in the capacity they are best fitted will have ample opportunity to do so in these units.

Adkins Can Appoint El Dorado Judge

Little Rock, Aug. 3.—(P)—The attorney general's office advised Governor Adkins today he could make an interim appointment to fill the vacancy created by death of Circuit Judge L. S. Britt of El Dorado and that a Democratic nominee for the four-year regular term beginning January 1 could be selected by one of three methods.

Adkins said he would confer with party leaders from the 13th judicial district this afternoon before announcing what method would be adopted.

The methods are (1) Nomination by the state democratic convention meeting in September; (2) nomination by delegates from the 13th district; (3) nomination at a special primary to be called before the November general election.

Britt died last Wednesday, about two weeks before the August 11 regular primary at which he would have been renominated without opposition. His present term expires January 1.

The attorney general's office added that the vacancy could be filled at a special general election with candidates running as independents nominated by petition of at least 50 qualified voters.

Asserts Allied Unity Is Only Key to Victory Over Axis

Remark Against Reds Classified as Untimely

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
Viscountess Astor's America's contribution to the British House of Commons, sounded a rather sour note when she remarked in a speech that she is "grateful to the Russians," but they are not fighting for us. They are fighting for themselves.

Having been acquainted with the Lady Nancy for many years, I'm confident that she had no intention of making an insidious remark which might damage Allied unity. However, one of her outstanding characteristics is that she gives a loose rein to a frequently brilliant but often caustic and indiscreet tongue. Certainly her comment was ill-chosen at a moment when the Bolsheviks are standing between the Allies and a catastrophe which might mean the total defeat for us.

Of course the Russians are fighting for Russia. So is Britain fighting for Britain, and America for America, in this conflict for survival. It would be a most unhappy circumstance, though, if this were the only viewpoint from which we could consider the alliance that is battling the Axis which would destroy us.

Surely we haven't reached the point where it's every man for himself in this crisis. If we are to have the strength and inspiration to fight this thing through to the new world which we envisage, it must be one for all, for one. So, in the broad sense, the Russians are fighting for us and we are fighting for them—and it's grand to feel that this is so. We don't do ourselves or our cynical viewpoint that the Russians are purely selfish and are fighting only to save their own skins. Anyway, whatever their motive is, they have been dying by hundreds of thousands to defeat an enemy who not only is trying to destroy them but to destroy Britain and America and the rest of the Allies as well.

This is not a moment for invidious remarks, and when the Reds are calling for the establishment of a second front to ease their terrible burden. To tell them that they aren't fighting for us must make them wonder whether there's a gendarmy on the part of the Allies to give them a stone when they ask for bread.

Still, the experienced minds in Moscow will understand that their Allies will provide that second front as soon as it is feasible, and will provide help for Russia just as eagerly as they would for their own people. The Allied leadership has made it clear that we don't intend to let somebody else fight our war for us. So far as we're concerned, it's one for all for one in this show.

War Rages Along the Banks of Russia's Historic Don

Election Jumps Hit Congress

By JACK STINNETT
Washington — It's going to take a heap of whip-cracking to keep Congress in session until after the November elections.

It may not be an "official vacation" as Senate Majority Leader Barkley hopes, but absentees will simply force the two houses to postpone important business.

The reason is, of course, the elections. The primaries in about two-thirds of the states are yet to be held. They will not be cleaned up until late September. That's going to leave only about six weeks for the general election campaigning. And just try to keep a Congressman away from the hustings back home when he thinks his job is endangered.

There are indications daily now that the exodus is already on. The Senate roll calls are tedious affairs. The clerks have to call over and over the names of the absentees, hoping that a few more will answer to their names and provide the necessary 49 for business to continue.

When the supplemental defense bill came to a vote recently in the Senate, the quorum couldn't be obtained and the vote had to go over for a day. A contingency that probably hasn't arisen since the defense effort started. On that day, a check-up revealed that 37 senators were out of the city.

As with the Senate, so with the House — perhaps even more so, because all of the house members are up for reelection. However, most of the Representatives did stick around until they had cleared the tax bill. To miss a vote on a tax bill is not considered the best legislative ethics or political good sense.

Few of the Congressmen now sitting have ever had to face the problem of a continuing Congress during election years and campaign problems. Even in World War I, Congress had its vacation.

The record isn't clear, but it is likely the present Congress already has broken all records for continued sittings.

Overplanting to Be Allowed

1 in 100
Cotton farmers who overplanted their 1942 allotments by not more than three acres or three percent, whichever is larger, will not be considered as "knowingly overplanted," according to a change in regulations announced by Earl N. Martindale, chairman of the Hempstead County Triple-A committee.

"This means," Mr. Martindale said, "that it will not be necessary for farmers to dispose of these small excess acreages of cotton in order to receive at least partial conservation payments. These farms also will be eligible for full government loans on their entire cotton production."

Mr. Martindale pointed out that this change in no way affects marketing quota regulations or other provisions concerning payments and deductions under the Agricultural Conservation Program.

"The provision which refers to the plowing up of excess cotton acreage often has been misunderstood," Mr. Martindale declared. "As a matter of fact, the farmer has not been asked to destroy growing cotton since 1933. However, he is given the privilege of doing so in order to bring his acreage within his allotment and thus realize the full benefits of the farm program."

Farmers who have overplanted their allotments are using their land, labor, and materials to produce excess cotton which is not needed at the present time. Now that the nation is at war, it is not only a patriotic duty but it is good business for every farmer to use that land in excess of his allotment for producing the commodities for which there is the greatest need, such as oil crops, poultry and dairy products, and pork and beef.

"For farmers who plow up excess cotton acreage to come within their cotton allotments, it is still early enough to plant cowpeas or some other late summer crop," Mr. Martindale said. "In this way, the land and fertilizer can still be used to good advantage," he said.

In land fighting the Chinese high command confirmed press reports today that its forces had recaptured T'ingting, 22 miles northwest of the port of Wenchow in Chekiang and said the Japanese were retreating upon the air base of Lishui.

Just west of Wenchow, the communique said, the Chinese recaptured several strategic points and fighting was said to be raging on the outskirts of the Japanese-held port.

Japanese columns were admitted to be closing in upon Sungyang, 25 miles west of Lishui in southern Chekiang province, however, and severe battles were underway to the east of Sungyang.

T'ingting was captured on July 20, the Chinese said, after it had been occupied by the Japanese only 24 hours. It has changed hands four times.

'WAVES' Commander Announced Today

Washington, Aug. 3 —(P)—The Navy announced today that Dr. Mildred H. McAfee, 42, president Wellesley college, would today as head of the women's reserve of the Navy with the rank of lieutenant commander.

The oath of office will be administered by Secretary of the Navy Knox in the early afternoon and shortly afterward Lt. Cmdr. McAfee is expected to give out some information regarding her plans for the new naval women's organization, the WAVES.

Dr. McAfee's appointment to the head of the naval women's reserve had been expected, but the Navy's disclosure constituted the first official confirmation of her selection.

cause they were uncertain whether a Republican endorsement would help or hurt their cause among Democratic constituents.

The Republican state convention voted several weeks ago to endorse a slate of Democratic candidates as a means of giving out numbered Republicans "a voice in election of their state officials." In Arkansas, Democratic nomination is tantamount to election.

With selection of such favorites, rank and file Republicans would be urged to give them active support in every way except by voting.

Republican leaders said, however, opposition to the plan had developed in several North Arkansas counties, such as Searcy and Newton, which normally cast a heavy Republican vote, frequently elect Republicans to county offices.

Democratic Ticket Certified
Little Rock, Aug. 3 —(P)—Democratic State Committee Secretary Harvey G. Combs certified to county committees today the state ticket for the August 11 primary, listing seven two-man contests, three more than appeared on the July 28 preferential ballot.

County committees, meeting Wednesday, will add congressional contests in the Second and Third districts and the various state district and county races.

In addition to the two-man contests for U. S. Senate, attorney general, state auditor, land commissioner and three supreme court seats, the ticket listed the names of three unopposed candidates. They are J. L. Shaver of Wynne for Lieutenant governor, State Treasurer Earl Page and Secretary of State C. G. Hall for re-election.

Governor Adkins was not listed on the ticket for the second primary since he was nominated by a clear majority in the preferential.

Official returns from the first primary had been received today from only 38 counties and Combs said a final tabulation probably could be made until late this week.

While he has received no official reports, Combs said he doubted whether there was much soldier absentee voting in the preferential. He added that absentee voting in the general primary would be even lighter because election officials had less time in which to mail out ballots.

today's session would be "open" meant merely that the accused and attorneys would be present.

There was speculation that the commission's announcement that it adjourned to meet at the call of the president meant it would meet to seven of the defendants if the president approved its findings.

The prosecutors spent ten days presenting evidence in support of contentions that the defendants were schooled in sabotage methods in Germany and put ashore from U-boats in New York and Florida to commit acts against the United States' war effort.

Six days were taken up in presentation of defense evidence, which included contentions that the men merely pretended to subscribe to the sabotage scheme as a ruse to get out of Germany.

After a two-day recess for proceedings before the supreme court, which results in a judgment upholding the authority of the military commission to try the men under a presidential order, arguments of attorneys were completed last Saturday.

The brevity of today's session indicated that it was held merely to notify the prisoners of the judgment, which apparently was reached at a commission session yesterday from which the prisoners' attorneys were excluded.

It was possible that execution of the sentences, which might be a maximum penalty of death by hanging or before a firing squad might precede announcement of the commission's verdict.

There has been consistent speculation that one of the prisoners, George John Dasch, might receive a verdict different from his seven co-defendants in view of the fact that he reportedly gave valuable evidence to the government and was assigned separate counsel.

French Rates All the Honors

Wide World ports Writer

New York — If you have any choices for baseball's comeback of the year don't air your arguments in Brooklyn unless your nominee is Larry French. It would be a most impolitic thing to do, if you know your Dodger fans.

A way, it would be difficult to come up with any other choice if the facts are examined.

In Brooklyn, the way to a fan's heart is to be a flopperoo one year and a world beater the next, and that's where the Dodgers' south-paw flinger fits in.

Currently the National League's leading pitcher—as of July 21 he had won 11 straight with only one defeat—French last year compiled a miserable record of five victories against 14 setbacks. The bulk of the record was established in Chicago, before the Dodgers got him on waivers from the Cubs late in August.

A Liberal Guy

What's more—or worse—French wound up with an earned-run average of 4.50, a degree of leniency that doesn't exactly call for a raise in pay the next season.

In the six previous years he had been with Chicago, the 34-year-old veteran had been a winner in all but one campaign. Thus, when the bottom appeared to drop out last summer it fell hard.

The figures show the extent of Larry's comeback. In the first 18 games he worked he allowed only six earned runs for a really amazing earned-run average of .769.

Part of his contribution to the Dodger cause has been in a relief role but he'd just as soon pull the fireman act as be a starter.

French realized he had the downgrade stamp on him last winter but he felt he had some good pitching left in that arm of his. So he persuaded Larry McPhail not to draw up his contract until he'd had an opportunity to show what he could do in spring exhibition games.

Wangled Better Contract — What he showed apparently convinced McPhail that he was far from dead timber and the word is French wangled a much better contract than he would otherwise have received.

With almost half the season remaining it's quite possible the tailors might wind up close to a 20-game winner. Certainly he should if he keeps the pace, and there have been no indications that the lead is getting heavier for him.

French, 14 years in the major legues, can become a 200-game winner by winning 18 games this season. He already leads all senior circuit hurlers in total shutouts, with 38, two more than Carl Hubbell.

The Dodgers aren't hesitant about giving full credit because without French's comeback they very likely wouldn't be leading the National League by the comfortable margin they possess.

French offers no concrete reason for his reversal of form.

He says his curve is breaking the way it should and he's getting his share of the corners. Which should more than suffice.

He could have rested on his laurels there, but it was only a few days later that the Senate split 30 to 30 on a vote which would have rubbed out the Florida barge canal. His vote was for it.

There was only one difficulty here, the vote was on a motion to amend, which, like some other votes, loses in case of a tie. At that point the canal didn't need saving — it already had been — but the Y. P. got in his say anyway.

The epidemic of tie votes, according to some senate analysts, is the result of the breakdown in party lines. Only on rare occasions these days do the members of either house vote strictly along party lines. Republicans often vote with the Administration and there's hardly a ballot when the Democratic side of both chambers is sprinkled generously with votes against Administration measure.

HERE FROM ENGLAND FOOD IS 'BEAUTIFUL'

Louisville, Ky. — (AP) — American food is "beautiful," says 21-year-old Heather Steele, who arrived recently from Surrey, England.

Miss Steele came here to marry Noel Merritt, tobacco company auditor, whom she met two years ago while he was serving as an air raid warden in Southampton. She was a member of the Women's Ambulance Defense Corps.

Miss Steele's first Atlantic crossing was made in a convoy of ships, one of which was torpedoed by an enemy submarine. She could not decide which was the more memorable experience—falling flat on the deck during the shelling or a five-day round of seasickness.

Shehab, prince of the Arab kingdom of Grand Teban, had planned to join the Free French prior to the Jap assault last December, but volunteered with Uncle Sam when the United States was forced into war. He is enrolled in the officer candidate training school.

His Arabian name is Emir Fuad H. M. Shehab.

That is true literally as well as figuratively, because Alfred H. M. Shehab, prince of the Arab kingdom of Grand Teban, had planned to join the Free French prior to the Jap assault last December, but volunteered with Uncle Sam when the United States was forced into war. He is enrolled in the officer candidate training school.

Atlanta Finally Breaks Winning Streak of Rocks

By The Associated Press

Memphis and Atlanta, both former leaders in this season's Southern Association race, were six games from the top today, and they can place a good share of the blame on Chattanooga and Little Rock, respectively.

Seventh-place Chattanooga closed out regular season play with the Braves at Memphis Sunday, dropping the first game 10-1 and winning the encore, 4-2. The Lookouts won 14 of their 23 games with the Braves during the season.

Atlanta and Little Rock like wise tangled for the last time this year and split a doubleheader. The Braves had rolled over Atlanta 13 straight times before the Crackers snapped the winning streak by taking the opener, 5-1, behind the seven-hit twirling of Jim Mertz, rookie right-hander. The Braves capped the nightcap 8-3 as southpaw Ed Lopat, newly acquired from Oklahoma City, went the distance, allowing nine safeties.

Little Rock downed Atlanta 15 times during the season, and lost seven.

The split put Memphis and Atlanta in a tie for third place, six games behind the pace-setting Braves and two and one-half games back of second-spot Nashville.

Nashville divided with Birmingham, getting a 5-3 decision in the first first match and falling 1-0 in the nightcap before the three-hit hit pitching of Veteran Ed Heusser. Knoxville's tail-enders trimmed New Orleans 6-4 in the first game of a twin bill. The second game was called in the third with the score 0-0.

Atlanta led its first game with Little Rock in the opening stanza with a four-run start off Frank Papish. Papish settled down and was effective on out. Of the eight hits he allowed, second baseman Char-

Sports Roundup

New York, Aug. 3 — Is it hot enough for you? . . . Well, football goes under way this week . . . Most of the pro teams are starting to train; Lieut. Col. Bob Neyland's all-Army players are heading for their New Haven, Conn., camp and the Texas high school all-star game and recruit roundup is scheduled for next Saturday at Abilene.

The Answer Men

When Manager Luke Sewell of the Browns was asked a $25 fine for a recent run-in with an ump he said he was tempted to pay it with a rubber check . . . "Just so when Harbridge notified me the check was bad I could say, 'Yeh, and it makes us even,' so was the decision," he explained . . . And when someone asked old S. S. Paige what kind of food made him so durable, he replied: "I'm on a strict diet — strictly fried foods, that's all I eat."

Southampton, N. Y. — Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Calif., defeated Sidney B. Wood, Southampton, 3-6, 61, 6-4, 1-6, 61, for Meadow Club singles tennis title. Pair combined later to annex doubles crown.

Kalamazoo, Mich. — Bob Falkenburg of Los Angeles, retained western Open Tennis title by defeating Art MacDonald, also of Los Angeles, in the set final, 3-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-4.

Shorts And Shells

A Texas horseman, who doesn't want the boys making touches, tells he has had a $20 straight bet on every horse Ben Jones has started this season and so far he profits are $1,600 . . . The Oklahoma campus is excited about a wire from Lieut. Col. Bob Neyland asking for Jack Jacobs' address. The boys figure that means Jack will be on the Army all-star squad . . . John C. Hoffman of the Chicago Times suggests Ted Lyons for manager of the White Sox "when the current succession of failures has come to a close."

If they're looking for a big, rough end for that western Army all-star team, 220-pound Jack Russell, former Baylor star, is down at Camp Wolters, Tex., listening for a bid . . . He's likely to have some competition, though, since officials say there are 1,800 former college players in the Army.

To Tear Down Garden's Bowl

By SID FEDER

New York, Aug. 3 — Out on Long Island, just a mile or so after you cross the East river, a wrecking crew went to work today tearing down a cemetery.

These fellows aren't ghouls for it is a cemetery without a grave — just a cemetery with a hoodoo. But as they rip out each board and chop out each chunk of concrete they'll find the ghost of a champion.

For this is the Madison Square Garden's bowl, the huge cement coffee cup the Garden put up in a big clover field for $150,000 ten years ago as a spot to run its varied sports affairs outdoors.

And in the decade of its existence, the bowl's biggest loss was when no champion put his title on the line in the place was every able to walk out with the crown. Never was there such a "graveyard of champions" as this.

Four times in three years the jinx jarred a crown from Barney Ross, finally sending him into retirement for keeps.

Buried in it also are the bright hopes of Max Schmeling for becoming the only heavyweight in ring history to regain the crown. It was in the bowl that Schmeling "fought" the famous phantom fight with Jim Braddock — a fight that never came off.

Heavyweight Boss Schmeling as a 5 to 6 favorite the night he met Jack Sharkey there in 1932 but Sharkey took the title away. A year later Primo Carnera and his mystic punch beat Sharkey and a year after that Max Baer then chopped the Italian giant down. Then on June 13, 1935 Braddock — the longest long shot to come into heavyweight title history — triumphed over the madcap Californian.

It wasn't that it wasn't successful. Baer and Carnera drew $498,000 for their brawl and Schmeling and Sharkey hit $432,365 for theirs. But champions couldn't be lured there any more.

And so it became a hotel for termite until the Garden's lease on the land ran out.

Dutch Harrison Tied for Lead in Golf Tourney

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

St. Paul, Aug. 3 — (AP) — Two of golf's "H" boys, Chick Harbert and Dutch Harrison, climb around the rugged Keller public links in an 18-hole playoff for the St. Paul Open Golf Championship today and the $1,000 that goes with first place. They finished all square Sunday at 280 strokes each — eight under par — at the end of the regulation 72 holes.

Both, Harbert of Battle Creek, Mich., and Harrison, the Arkansas Traveler working out of Harrisburg, Pa., have been tabbed by their compatriots as the up-and-coming golfers of the day — players whose names might someday rest beside those of Ben Hogan, Craig Wood, Byron Nelson and the others in the fan-clan.

Harbert — He's the guy who whistles while he puts — was four strokes behind leader Gene Kunes of Philadelphia as the field entered the last 36 holes yesterday and a three behind Harrison. On the first 27 holes of the day, Harbert stood five under par after firing a 68 and turning in a 35 on the first nine in the afternoon. With nine holes remaining, he led Harrison by three strokes.

The drawling Arkansas took a 73 and a 36 and appeared lost in the shuffle while Kunes faded badly to leave the gate open.

But Harrison settled down to shoot three straight birdies at the start of the last nine, while Harbert also fashioned two birdies but nullified them with a pair of bogies to post a 36 for 71.

Coming up to the last green, Harrison needed a birdie four to tie. He got it by pitching six feet from the cup and holing the putt for a dazzling 33 and a 69 for the round.

Jimmy Hines issued a six-foot putt on the last green and finished third with 281, followed in order by Johnny Revolta and Kunes.

Army to Start Using Dogs

By JACK STINNETT

Washington — The Army has finally decided to unleash the dogs of war.

In this instance, we are once more several months or years behind the Nazis, who reportedly now are using more than 100,000 dogs for supplementary sentry service and other duties connected with prosecution of the war.

Now comes the quartermaster corps to give full recognition to Dogs for Defense, Inc., an organization of owners, breeders, trainers and handlers, backed by some of the biggest kennel associations in the country.

The idea is to supply the Army and Navy with thousands of dogs (about 2,000 have been supplied in date) trained to contribute a sensitive nose, an extra pair of eyes and ears, and canine sixth sense on sentry duty.

If Rover is a pure-bred dog (and he can be a she) between one and five years old, is sound of mind and limb, he's eligible for military duty. There are, of course, a lot of additional ifs.

He (or she) must be of watch-dog disposition. That is, the Army doesn't want any stranger-sniffers—they have to be barkers or, at least, growlers. He mustn't be a one-man dog either, because the canine sentries might have a new master every time he's on duty. He must be able to work as well at night as in the daytime.

And what is of vital importance, he must be able to work as well under gunfire as any of the best field trial blue ribbon winners.

Having answered all those specifications, the dog must also answer to the following commands (preceded by his name): "Heel"—standing steady or following at the handler's left heel. "Stay"—which means as is" and immediately.

"Out"—which means rout 'em out, bound, in whatever direction the handler designates. "Come"—or get for papa, Bruno, and don't chase any rabbits on the way.

If the family pup fulfills all these requirements and is that far along in his training, he's ready for military service and the specified agents of Dogs for Defense (they are in the process of being appointed in practically every city and town in the country — ask your veterinary or local kennel club) will put him through the paces.

If he passes their tests, he's ready for induction.

This drive for dogs to use in modern mechanized warfare has its funny side, too. It is reminiscent of the story that Rimmell, the Nazi genius of desert warfare, learned every basic principle of strategy he knows from studying the campaigns and attack strategy of "Stonewall" Jackson.

When the founding fathers and the pioneers were setting off their blunderbusses against the Indians, the worst menace they had to confront was the warning howls of the dogs in the Indian camps and villages.

Weapons change, but not the old principles. A bark in time still may save a battle.

A Hula Dance on Ice Skates

By GEORGE TUCKER

New York — Doing a hula dance on ice skates is next to impossible, but the kids at the New Yorker do a pretty good job of trying. Their new ice revue, based on the waving palms and grass skirt idea, with a throwback to the Gay Nineties and George M. Cohan, is easily the best this hotel night spot has had. The management has come up with a find in Ariane, a young Swiss girl of looks and talent. This is her first showing in the U. S. Being able to skate well isn't enough for the movies — you've got to have a certain moving kind of beauty to go with it, and Ariane has it. The scouts definitely are interested.

being right out of Walt Disney is to be found on the Rustic roof at the Sheraton, New York's only completely open air roof garden. No lights are used save tiny candles on the tables, and these give off a fiery effect as they waver and flicker in the darkness. But the real show comes from the transport planes and bombers that wing over the city to and from the ports and landing fields on Long Island. As they come down the Island the great searchlights pick them up and, like great moths bathed in white, you can follow them from the Island, across Manhattan, and on until they are lost in the mists of Jersey. Disney could paint just such a scene as this, and win applause.

More than a million people saw "Mrs. Miniver" at the Music Hall, certainly a record for New York, and I suppose for any one theater in the world . . . The charm of this film has reached right out to the floral shops, where "Mrs. Miniver roses" are on display. And if you could take a popularity count in this not-so-busy town today I think you'd find Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon leading the list. Pidgeon walked through this picture with a pipe stuck in his face, and you can walk along the avenue today and see more men than ever before smoking pipes . . . I suppose if you accused them of being influenced by Pidgeon in a picture, they'd deny it . . . But, it's true.

When you get in trouble, the best way out of it is going to the top man, state your troubles and ask for help . . . Two gobs on a roof garden had over-stayed their leave and were somewhat upset when it dawned on them that they were going to be late returning to their ship. It happened that just then they spied an officer who turned out to be Commander Wuest, of the Brooklyn Navy Yard . . . The commander said: "Go to the Coast Guard at Manhattan Beach and tell them your troubles . . . They'll see that you make your ship". So the gobs did, and the coast guard did, and everybody was happy.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Proposed by the General Assembly and filed in the office of the Secretary of State on the 27th day of March, 1941.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AND SENATE OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS, A MAJORITY OF BOTH HOUSES AGREEING THERETO: THAT THE FOLLOWING IS HEREBY PROPOSED AS AN AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS, AND THE SAME BEING SUBMITTED TO THE ELECTORS OF THE STATE FOR APPROVAL OR REJECTION AT THE NEXT GENERAL ELECTION FOR SENATORS AND REPRESENTATIVES, IF A MAJORITY OF THE ELECTORS VOTING THEREON ADOPT SUCH AMENDMENT, THE SAME SHALL BECOME A PART OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS, TO-WIT:

Section 1. Whenever in any county where there is located a public hospital owned by such county or by any municipal corporation therein, whether such hospital be operated by such county or municipal corporation or by a benevolent association as the agent or lessee of such county or municipality, the county judge or the mayor, electors of such county shall file a petition with the county judge asking that an annual tax on real and personal property in such county be levied for the purpose of maintaining, operating and supporting such hospital and shall specify a rate of taxation not exceeding one mill on the dollar of the assessed value of real and personal property in the county. The question as to whether such tax shall be levied shall be submitted to the qualified electors of such county at a general election. Such petition must be filed at least thirty days prior to the election at which it will be submitted to the voters. The county judge upon the filing of such petition shall notify the county board of election commissioners thereof and the county board of election commissioners shall cause the question to be placed upon the ballot in substantially the following form:

FOR A mill tax on real and personal property to be used for maintenance, operation and support of a public hospital.

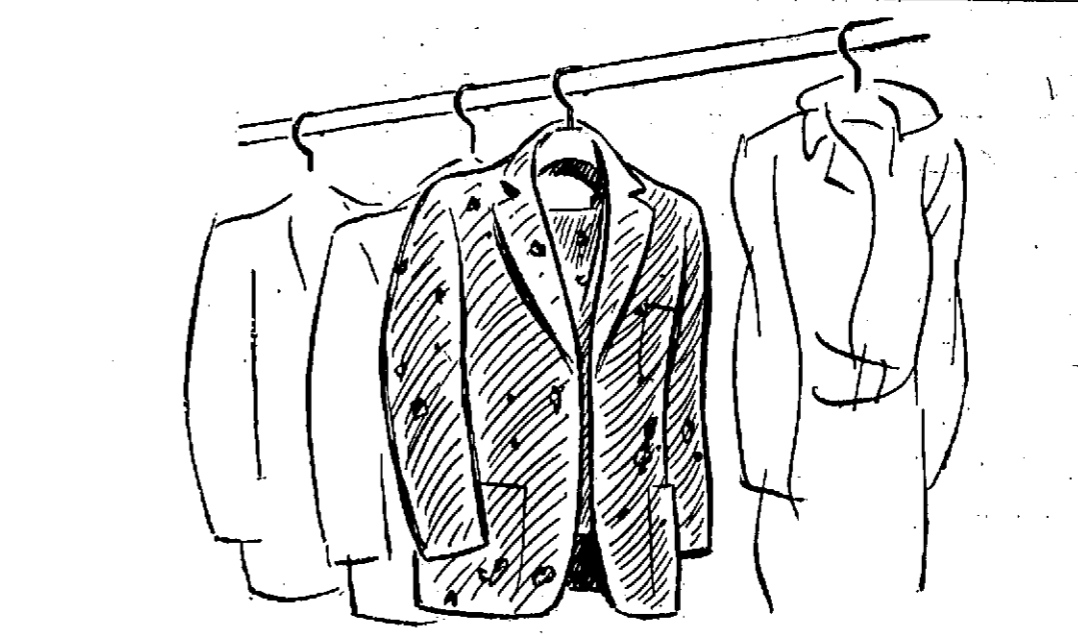

AGAINST A Mill tax on real and personal property to be used for maintenance, operation and support of a public hospital.

Section 2. The election commissioners shall certify to the county judge the result of the vote and if a majority of the qualified electors voting on the question at such election vote in favor of the specified tax then it shall thereupon be levied and collected as collected as other general taxes of such county are levied and collected. The result of the election shall be proclaimed by the county judge by publication for one insertion in some newspaper published and having a bona fide circulation in such county. The result so proclaimed shall be conclusive unless attacked in the courts within thirty days and after the election it shall not be competent to attack the result thereof on the ground that any signers of the petition were not qualified electors. The proceeds of any tax so voted shall upon the settlement of the collecting officer be paid by the treasurer of the county to the treasurer of such hospital to be used by such treasurer in the maintenance, operation and support of such institution; provided that any county where there may be more than one hospital qualified to receive the proceeds of such tax, the quorum court at its meeting for the purpose of adopting the county's budget, shall provide for the apportionment of the proceeds of said tax between the institutions so qualified according to the respective needs.

Section 3. Whenever one hundred or more electors of any county having a hospital tax in force shall file a petition with the county judge asking that such tax be raised, reduced or abolished, the question shall be submitted to the qualified electors at a general election. Such petition must be filed at least thirty days prior to the election at which it will be submitted to the voters. The ballots shall follow, as far as practicable, the form set out in Section 1 hereof, and the result shall be certified and proclaimed as provided in Section 2 hereof and shall be conclusive like manner. The tax shall be lowered, raised or abolished as the case may be, according to the majority of qualified electors voting on the question at such election, provided, however, that it shall not be raised to more than one mill on the dollar. If lowered or raised the revised tax shall thereafter be continually levied and collected and the proceeds used at a general election for the purposes provided in Section 2 hereof.

Section 4. This amendment shall be self executing and shall become a part of the constitution of the State of Arkansas when approved by a majority of the electors voting thereon at the next general election.

Witness my hand and Seal this 30th day of April, 1942.
C. G. HALL,
Secretary of State.

This is a Suit. It is Ruined

It was hung away in a closet, no care was taken of it and the moths got into it. Its owner is due for an unpleasant surprise the next time he wants to wear the suit.

This is a Balance Sheet. It is Ruined

It once was the balance sheet of a going retail concern. Its owner let the "moths" get into it.

Priorities, rationing, the misfortunes of war cut down his supplies of goods. He stopped advertising, let his customers forget him, neglected to give them services and substitutes for goods he used to sell.

This is the Difference

Newspaper advertising in wartime can be the difference between the success or failure of a retail establishment. New goods, new services made valuable to the public and sold to the public by consistent advertising keeps the "moths" out of the ledger of a going concern.

A Good Way to Crash Movies

By ROBBIN COONS
Hollywood — The way things have been going in the movies, taking tutelage in dramatics to crash the movies is less effective than booting a horn. That neighbor boy who drives you to a bad-neighbor policy with his trumpet - torture may be 1950's screen sensation.

This is the year of the great band bonanza, Hollywood's mammoth bassoon bubble — a bubble which will grow larger and rosier before it bursts.

There's never been anything like it in pictures before. Anything like the way the maestros and the men have taken over Hollywood. When the movies got their new toy, sound, they thought at once of the music, and they brought out a few bands — Rudy Vallee's, Paul Whiteman's, Ted Lewis's, and later Ben Bernie's. They came and went, some to come again.

Today it is anybody's jam session. They're all coming and most of them have plans to stay or to return at intervals. They're the answer, so Hollywood has come to believe, to all of Hollywood's box-office uncertainties.

The studios are even handing out term contracts to some of the maestros. Glenn Miller played Glenn Miller so well, so unaffectedly, in "Sun Valley Serenade" and "Orchestra Wives" that 20th Century-Fox made certain he'd come again. Kay Kyser started this maestro-movie star combination at RKO, where he's done four pictures already.

You know they want band leaders when a studio starts looking for vehicles for them. The bands used to go along for the ride, now they are pulling the movie wagon. Harry James of the high trumpet is "Springtime in the Rockies" a 20th, and M-G-M already has a story ready for him which must wait for James's next road tour is done. The Zanuck lot is vehicle-hunting for Sammy Kaye because that outfit hit the groove for Sonja Henie's "Ice Land."

At RKO Freddie Martin's hit in "Syncopation" brought him back to compete with Les Brown in the picture "Sweet or Hot." Martin is of the combination, Brown being a youngster almost unknown out here but great on the juke boxes back east.

RKO knows already he'll be a picture hit, and you know how they know? Because Les Brown went over big at the Palladium. That's the mammoth dance hall which gives the best of the name bands night work while they're making movies by day. If the jitter-crowd there spreads the word, the band is 'in'.

M-G-M, after "Ship Ahoy," is hosing "DuBarry Was a Lady" until Tommy Dorsey can get back, and Paramount is just as hot over brother Jimmy. Universal is the happy-hunting-ground of bandmen — Harry James, Woody Herman, Sonny Dunham, Ted Lewis, Ozzie Nelson, Skinnay Ennis all have been featured in pictures there.

Dodgers to Meet Giants

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Brooklyn Dodgers, who might not be so far along with their work had they met the New York Giants more often, tangle with their hecklers from Harlem this evening in a contest that has generated more excitement in Gotham than any baseball battle since the last World Series.

This interborough brawl was just another Monday ball game when the schedule was drawn months ago but now it's an important struggle with Army relief the principal beneficiary.

The extra special attraction will be Van Lingle Mungo, new addition to the Giants' pitching staff, hurling against the Dodgers, whose uniform he wore when he was the terror of the majors not so many years ago.

A quirk in the schedule has kept the two teams apart since Memorial Day. In 11 outings this season, the Dodgers won six and the Giants five. Whitlow Wyatt will be Brooklyn's starting pitcher for this evening's joust, which opens a four-game series.

The Giants helped the Dodgers preserve their nine-game lead yesterday by splitting a doubleheader with the second-place St. Louis Cardinals, which is all the Dodgers could do with the Chicago Cubs. It took the Dodgers ten innings to turn back the Cubs, 5-4, in the first game. Pete Reiser hoisted a long fly with the bases loaded to decide the issue. In the second game, Claude Passeau pitched the Cubs to a 7-6 triumph.

Carl Hubbell pitched the Giants to a 7-1 decision over the Cardinals for his fifth straight win as Mel Ott blasted two home runs, one with the bases loaded. Then Mort Cooper tossed a four-hitter at the Giants and the Cards won 3-2.

The Cincinnati Reds clung to their one-game third-place margin over the Giants by splitting with the Boston Braves. Al Javery blanked the Reds 7-0 on five hits in the first game, but Cincinnati took the second, 4-2.

The Pittsburgh Pirates dumped the Philadelphia Phils, 4-2 and 3-2, and hopped over the Cubs into fifth place. Luke Hamlin pitched five-hit ball for the Bucs in the first game and Vince DiMaggio accounted for all the Pittsburgh runs in the second on a pair of home runs.

Five Die in Arkansas

Little Rock, Aug. 3 —(AP)— Five persons met violent deaths in Arkansas over the week-end, three in traffic accidents and two by drowning.

They were:
Louis Keel, 53, farmer of near Harrison; car he was in struck the back of a truck.

Will Bennett, 70, Springdale carpenter; hit by auto north of Springdale as he repaired a flat tire.

Orville Slusser, 20, Hoxie trucker; train struck his lumber truck at a crossing.

Drownings:
Billy Harvey, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey of Walnut Ridge; on a swimming party in Black River.

Elwood Norman, 17, Newport, on a swimming party in the White River.

Tax on Bonds Is Opposed

Washington, Aug. 3 —(AP)— Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York City, testified today that taxation of the income from future issues of state and local bonds would have "disastrous" consequences on municipal financing.

Appearing before the Senate Finance committee studying the $6,271,000,000 tax bill, LaGuardia said that there would be no net gain for the federal government in taxing the income from such bonds because local taxpayers in the end would have to pay the bill.

their lead to 12 1-2 games over the Cleveland Indians, who wrested second place from the Boston Red Sox with the help of the Detroit Tigers.

A two-run homer by Tommy Henrich led the Yanks to a 4-2 victory over St. Louis in the opener and Ernie Bonham blanked the Browns, 10-0 in the nightcap, although he yielded ten hits.

The Indians nosed out the Philadelphia Athletics, 4-3 and 4-2. The Detroit Tigers knocked the Boston Red Sox into third place by four percentage points, taking the first game, 8-4, as Paul (Dizzy) Trout pitched seven-hit ball and contributed a three-run homer. The Tigers annexed the second, 6-2, on the nine hit hurling of Virgil Trucks and Al Benton.

Washington's scheduled double-header at Chicago was postponed.

Arkansas Sales Show Increase

Washington, Aug. 3 —(AP)— Utah, Arkansas and Washington led all states in percentage gains in retail sales by independent stores during June this year as compared with June 1941.

Utah had the greatest increase, with a total of 15 per cent. Arkansas ran a close second with 14 per cent and Washington stood third with 11 per cent. Nebraska took fourth place with an eight per cent gain.

Independent retail sales in 18 states dropped last June, compared with June 1941. Pennsylvania and Illinois had decreases of one per cent each; Michigan four per cent, Massachusetts five, Connecticut nine and Montana 12. Montana's reduction was the largest reported.

During the first six months of this year Utah's independent retail sales increased 16 per cent, compared with the first half of 1941. Arkansas reported a gain of 15 per cent for the same period this year and Washington sales increased 12 per cent.

Dollar sales reported by Utah independent retailers for last June totaled $2,228,420; by Arkansas $1,806,900, and by Washington $8,145,301.

British Towns Hit by Nazis

London, Aug. 3 —(AP)— Britons spending the August bank holiday at seaside resorts or celebrating at home were targets of German air raiders who swooped from the clouds to bomb scattered towns in England this afternoon.

A trial of bomb damage was left across a southwest seaside town, but casualties were believed slight and there were no immediate reports of fatalities.

Crowds watched a spitfire pursue one raider.

A north midlands town, where a carnival was held for those heeding the government's admonition to enjoy the holiday at home, was subjected to low-level bombing by a lone raider. Two bombs fell in a park near an outdoor theater, but only minor casualties resulted.

Considerable damage was done to business and residential properties of a northeast coast town where a single Nazi bomber struck during the lunch hour. Rescue parties searched the debris for possible victims.

CIO, AFL Talk About Peace

Pittsburgh, Aug. 3 —(AP)— The possibility of a reconciliation between the Congress of Industrial Organizations and the American Federation of Labor was revived today by a proposal of the CIO President Philip Murray for the renewal of peace negotiations.

Murray wrote William Green, the president of the AFL, that he had named a CIO peace committee of three and asked Green to appoint a similar AFL group to discuss the "possible establishment of organic unit between our organizations."

In Washington, Green said he would issue a statement of Murray's proposal when the AFL executive council convenes tomorrow in Chicago.

Green would not state specifically whether the subject of organic unit would be discussed at the meeting, saying there would be no comment until issuance of his formal statement.

Previous peace efforts in 1937 and 1939 failed.

The CIO leader also suggested to Green the creation of a joint AFL-CIO committee, with an impartial arbitrator, to handle all jurisdictional disputes between the organizations. Murray said such disputes had caused several work stoppages recently. Pending decisions by the proposed committee, he wrote, there should be no stoppages of work.

The CIO peace committee would consist of Murray, R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers, and Julius Emspak of the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers.

Alleged Nazi Worker Must Answer Charge

Little Rock, Aug. 3 —(AP)— District Attorney Sam Rorex said today Mrs. Margaret Asbeck Murray, 34, has sixty days to answer a complaint he filed Saturday asking the federal court here to cancel her citizenship.

The complaint charged Mrs. Murray, wife of an official in charge of Bauxite surveys in Arkansas, retained allegiance to her native Germany after naturalization in 1940. It charged she obtained naturalization by fraud "in that she was not in fact attached to the principles of the constitution of the United States."

WHO CAN SERVE BEST?

The answer is simple, the conclusion obvious—he can serve best who has the most at stake . . . whose training, qualifications, experience and record of service are most vitally needed in this crucial stage of our nation's progress!

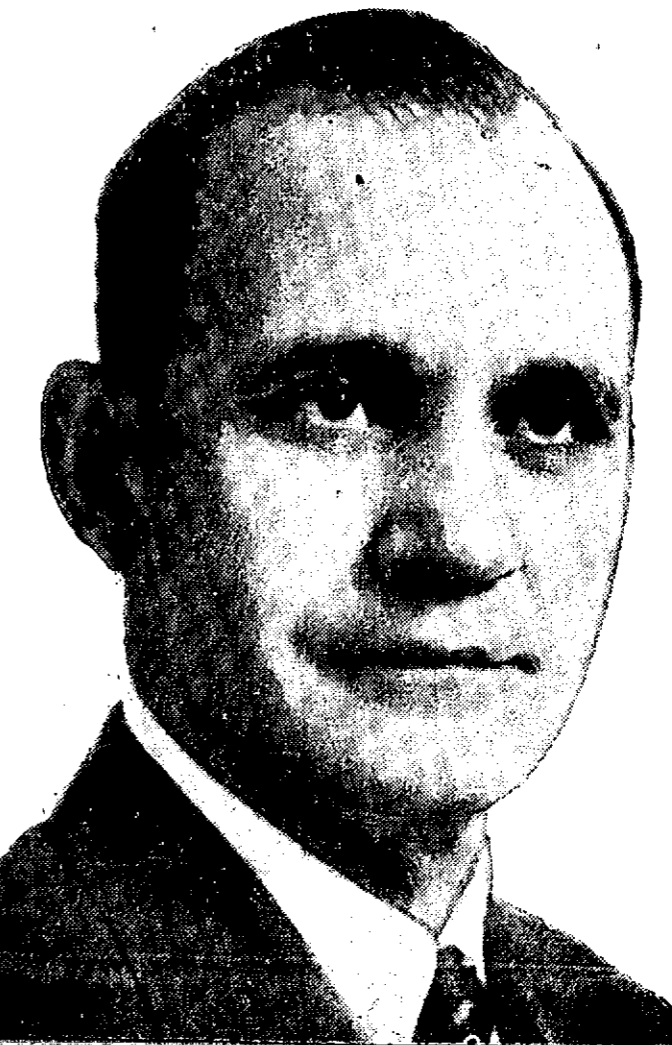

THIS IS NOT A HALF TRUTH!

John McClellan's surviving opponent, in an effort to discredit John in the Preferential Primary, charged that "John McClellan's neighbors—those who know him best—refused to endorse him." John's surviving opponent made great capital of this shabby political trick in paid ads in all the papers—but a resentful people emphatically refuted the ridiculous charges with their ballots!

FIGURES DON'T LIE — LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORD!

John McClellan's Home Counties	McClellan Vote	Surviving Opponent Vote	3rd Candidate Vote	4th Candidate Vote
Grant Co. Where John McClellan Lived for 23 Years	1,354	234	98	75
Hot Spring Co. Where John McClellan Lived Next 20 Years	2,211	438	505	200
Ouachita Co. John McClellan's Present Home	2,101	543	640	98

Total McCLELLAN Vote in His "Home Counties" TWICE the Total of all 3 opponents combined . . . while his surviving opponent LOST his "home county of Boone . . . LOST every county in his judicial District . . . LOST every county in his Congressional District!

Yes, this is no half truth, "home people know you best," and the surviving opponent's "home people" repudiated him in the counties where he had served 8 years as Prosecuting Attorney and Circuit Judge. BUT, he was also known to the Hot Springs political racketeers. Czar McLaughlin says the surviving opponent is HIS kind . . . and look at the Garland county vote. You've GOT something there!
